THE SOLDIER'S TENT.

THE soldier lay smiling peacefully
Asleep in his tent on the sward,
The moon crept in and said: "Look at me,
A glance from thy sweetheart I bring to thee!"
But he answered: "I have my sword."

Then the rustling Wind drew softly near,
Breathed round him with whispers light:
"I am the sighs of thy mother dear,
The sighs of thy mother am I, dost hear?"
But he answered: "I have the fight."

Then Night sank down from the dark'ning sky
Round the sleeper; and murmured: "Rest!
Thy sweetheart's veil on thy face doth lie."
He answered: "No need of it have I,
For the banner doth cover me best."

The River came rolling clear and wide,
By the tent, with its silver flood;
And said: "I am water, the cleansing tide,
More blessed than aught in the world beside."
But he answered: "I have my blood."

Then Sleep drew near to his tent, and low
She whispered with soothing breath:
"I am Sleep, the healer of ev'rry woe,
The dearest treasure of man below."
But the soldier replied: "I have death!"

Odds and Ends of Gossip.

NEW WORLD.—In the NEWS-LEADER of last week, was published an item about a man thirty-two years of age, who had lived all his life at his country home, and had just made his first visit to Springfield—the only time he had been so far from home. The case is rather a remarkable one, but the school children's free day at the fair last week was the occasion of disclosing quite a number of similar cases with the difference that these were among the children. There was quite a large number of little ones among the crowd at the fair that day who had never been so far from home before in their lives, and to whom the town, the crowd and the Flying Dutchman at the fair were as revelations of a new world before their wondering gaze.

"Don't you know that indicates how hard times have been with some of the country people," observed a gentleman in discussing the matter. "These children have never been to a fair before, because their parents were too poor to pay their way in, and they are here today because they have been furnished with free tickets as school children, and in a great many cases they have been given a free ride to town by their teachers."

I think our friend has an exaggerated idea about the poverty of the parents of some of the little ones, and I expect if the truth were known, that some of the fond fathers give entirely too little thought to the pleasure of their little ones. There is no doubt many an unworthy father who takes the delusion that he is entirely too poor to take his family to such a thing as a fair, but you may count on finding him there by himself every time, and the chances are that he will throw away more than enough money in one day than the expense of bringing in his family would have been for the entire time.

BRANCHING OUT.—The Washington County Telephone Company is a local concern whose business is branching out and growing in importance. The local exchange has been in operation only a few months now yet it has become one of the well established enterprises of the town and a convenience without which the business men of the town begin to feel they would be at a loss. The latest additional line to be completed is the one that gives a connection with St. Catherines Academy. This line will be a great convenience to the Sisters as well as to others who have business with the establishment. The telephone company is made up of local business men who put their money in the enterprise at a time when the outlook was not at all reassuring. They have pushed it along until now thanks to the liberal patronage of the local public the telephone company may be said to be flourishing and approaching that happy time when the patience of stockholders will be rewarded by the payment of a dividend.

NEW LAUGH.—The up-to-date woman is now cultivating a new manner of expressing her mirth and instead of the hearty "Ha-ha," it is merely the expression of laughter by means of the eyes and lips without any show of teeth. In other words it is the same old laugh without the noise. The American girl in general has been "dubbed" loud from the fact that she indulged in loud laughter too liberally in public places, and as an offset to that criticism the society mammas have put their heads together and discussed the matter with the above result. We have not seen the effect, nor are we likely to, for the dear girls will laugh loud and long when they feel like it, and who will say them nay?

DRY.—The annual drouth is at hand, and a good number of Springfield's citizens are repeating the experience of years—hauling water. Last year's drouth was a record-breaker. The town wells failed, and the private supply was inadequate to fill the demand. A great many wells and cisterns were made, but there still exists an insufficient water supply. Did anobody say we need water works for the town?

Snap Shots With a Graphophone.

The Graphophone is to the ear what the photographic camera is to the eye, and more, for the Graphophone catches instantly and preserves every tint and shade of sound. A most interesting use of a Graphophone is to make records of your friends voices to be preserved for future use. You can catch the story of your jolly friend just as he told it, or the favorite song of some loved one just as she sang it, and have it reproduced perfectly at any time and as often as you please. Besides the Graphophone affords wonderful entertainment in the way of reproducing the music of bands, orchestras, or vocal or instrumental soloists. No investment will return so much in pleasure as the purchase of a Graphophone. It is the perfect talking machine. A Date to be Remembered.

August the twelfth will pass into chronicles as the date on which was concluded a war quite as decisive, almost as rapid, and certainly more comic than any other ever waged. No sooner had Dewey breakfasted off Montejo's squadron than from out the scullery the Cinderella of nations emerged. Then came Cervera's great game of hide-and-go-seek, the immemorial joke which Hobson played on him and the sweet effrontery with which he quartered on that gallat old tar. Before the applause of it and the laughter had subsided, the world was trested to a colossal Camara farce, the chemically provisioned and circuitously conducted excursion to nowhere and back at which history will split its sides. Yet even the proportions of that extravaganza dwindled beside the incident at Guani, the pathos of the surprise of the governor who was unware that peace was interrupted mistook a bombardment for a salute. Things such as these are delectable, but it will be a matter for individual temperament to decide whether they are not all exceeded in humor by the magnicence with which Essign Curtain rang up the authorities at Ponce and telephoned them to surrender or die. Since the days of Marathon and Salamis, since the totter and fall of Troy, never has there been anything approaching that. Taken with the other episodes and added to peninsular accounts of the of the war as it has not been fought the lot forms a grand comic sam total which may be trusted to convulse generations to be.

History has closed a book. On the last page stands written Adios Espania. The lady vacates this section for good, for her good for ours for the good of all concerned and for good riddance. The Caribbean watches her departure mutely. From the ripple of the waters not a Hasta la vista ascends. In the torrential sky there is not a tear. It is the end the farewell one parenthetically rather abrupt, the result of an argument in which for sole support she had the insidiousness of her fevers and the ignorance of our commissariat. The strain of both has been heavy, yet so quick has been the relief that one may assume that hersafter the Twelfth of August will be remembered even though the "Maine" be forgot.—Edgar Saltus in Collier's Weekly.

Capt. Sweeney.

A dispatch from Chicamauga says that Capt. W. H. Sweeney of Co. F, has tendered his resignation. Capt. Sweeney went into the service with blood in his eye and fire in his heart, and now that there is no longer any prospect of a fight he desires to return to his neglected business Most of the men in his command share the wish of the Captain, and it is not unlikely that the whole second regiment, with others, will be mustered out, those desiring to remain in the service being permitted to reenlist. Most of the men are tired of scant rations, hard work fever and monotony, which things they were cheerfully willing to undergo as long as there was a prospect for active service but now that this prospect has disappeared, they are more anxious to return to their homes and avocations. It may be pretty safe, therefore, to look for the Lebanon boys back within the next few weeks. In the meantime, the Second regiment has been ordered to Huntsville, Ala., and even this change is a great relief to the men.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Miles and Shafter.

The surrender of Santiago left the correspondent without much material for exciting news, so sensational reports of the strained relations between Generals Miles and Shafter, the attempt of Miles to supersede Shafter in command of the Santiago forces, the suppression of orders to Miles, and a whole lot of other rot was manufactured to fill the void, and the skill in which the stories were prepared and served completely deceived the public as to their accuracy. It was the common belief after these reports appeared in the public prints that the differences between these two Generals were irreconcilable and that each was awaiting the other to knock the chip off of his shoulder when they would settle their trouble in the usual American way. These silly yarns, however, have been knocked sky high by the Washington authorities who show from the reports of these officers themselves that there has not been the slightest friction between them nor any attempt whatever on the part of the Commander-in-Chief to supplant General Shafter or interfere in any way with his plans. They are on the best of terms and each attended strictly to his duties. It is hoped that that the contradiction of these senseless reports will put an end to the pernicious attempts that have been made to destroy the good feeling that should exist among the officers of the Army and Navy.—Danville Advocate.

The best sale of mules made in this county for a long time—in fact, the best we have heard of in Kentucky for quite awhile— was made by Mr. Jos Phillips, of this city, Monday, when he disposed of ninety-four head at an average of $140 per head. The purchaser was Mr. Henry Crosier, formerly of Nelson county, and the mules were bought for the Southern market. Such sales as this are an encouraging sign of the improvement of the times, and an evidence that good stock will always bring fair prices.—Marion Falcon.

This dispatch from Danville shows that intelligent farming has not altogether played out as a business: Boyle county men will this fall get a good deal of money in exchange for fancy export beeves that are now fattening in the vicinity of Danville. Agents of New York, Chicago and Baltimore cattle firms have already been looking over the various "bunches," but so far only a few sales have been made. These cattle when sold are shipped direct to Newport News, thence to England, to appear in steaks and roasts on the Britisher's Christmas table, the fame of the bluegrass beef having already put a premium on it in that country. Boyle's fat cattle will put over $100,000 in the Danville banks during the month of October.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Washington county assembled in mass convention at the Courthouse in Springfield, on Saturday, August 27, 1898, at 1 o'clock p. m. pursuant to the call of the Republican Committee for the Third Appellate Court District of Kentucky, and the call of the Republican County Committee of Washington county. The convention was called to order by Thos. J. Miller, Chairman of the County Committee. On motion of John C. Thompson, John W. Lewis was unanimously chosen Chairman of the convention. The Chairman stated the object of the convention. On motion of Thos. J. Miller, John C. Thompson was unanimously chosen secretary. Hon. W. F. Nelkirk offered the following resolutions and moved the the adoption of them as a whole:

FIRST: Resolved, by the Republicans of Washington county, in convention assembled, that we pledge anew our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the platform adopted at the national convention of 1896.

SECOND: That we indorse the able and patriotic administration of President McKinley; the wisdom and prudence he has exhibited in the trying ordeal of war, through which we have just passed; and rejoice that under his leadership sectional lines were obliterated; party differences were forgotten, and our people rallied around one common flag.

THIRD: That we are proud of the glorious achievements of our army and navy that have commanded the respect and admiration of the world, that have caused victory to crown our banners, and have driven despotism from the Western world, and advanced the principles of universal liberty.

FOURTH: That we approve the call of the committee of this appellate district for a convention to meet in Lebanon for the purpose of selecting a Republican candidate for the position of Judge of the Court of Appeals.

FIFTH: That we consider the office the most responsible within the gift of the people of the state, and appreciate the importance of having it filled by a man of integrity and ability.

SIXTH: That in Judge W. W. Jones, of Adair county, we recognize a true and tried Republican, a man of learning and superior legal attainments, and a man whose whole experience upon the bench, as well as his superior legal attainments, eminently qualify him to serve the people of the state in this high position, and we instruct our delegates to the Lebanon convention to cast the vote of Washington county as a unit for him, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination as long as his name is before the convention.

SEVENTH: That the following persons be appointed delegates from Washington county to the said judicial district convention at Lebanon to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, namely: T. J. Nally, W. F. Hall, John G. Howell, George Keeling, W. H. Morgan, W. L. Keeling, George Lambert, S. F. Turner, J. S. Coyle, Tom Pipes, Press Dawson, John C. Thompson, C. R. Philistreau, James B. Hays, Lytle Keys J. L. Moore, J. L. Wharton, Daniel Clements, J. H. Waters, Frank Brooks John Hendren, Pius Fenwick, Nat Thompson, B. F. Deats, Martin Redding, and all other good Republicans of Washington county who may desire to attend.

Thos. J. Miller moved to amend the seven resolutions by adding to them the following:

Resolved: That the Republicans of Washington county endorse the clean, able, patriotically successful administration of the state government by Gov. Bradley.

Mr. Nelkirk accepted the amendment. Said amendment was then unanimously adopted by the convention.

N. P. Thompson then moved to amend the Fifth of said resolutions, the same instructing the vote of Washington county to be cast in said district convention as a unit for Judge W. W. Jones, of Adair county, for the nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals, by striking out so much of said resolution as instructs the vote of said county to be cast as a unit for said Jones for said nomination in said district convention, and instructing in lieu thereof, the following:

"That in the interest of harmony, the delegates of Washington county to said judicial district convention, as between Judge W. W. Jones, and Judge C. W. Lester, be instructed to cast the vote of said county, in the said district convention, so as to give to said Jones one-half of the whole number of votes said county of Washington is entitled to cast in said convention, and to said Lester one-half of the whole number of votes said county is entitled to cast in said district convention."

Said amendment was unanimously adopted by the convention.

Thos. J. Miller moved to amend the Seventh and last of resolutions by adding the name of John W. Lewis as one of the delegates of said county to said district convention. Said Nelkirk accepted said amendment and same was unanimously adopted by the convention. The said resolutions as amended as aforesaid, were then unanimously adopted by the convention.

Thos J. Miller moved that the Louisville Commercial and the Washington County NEWS-LEADER be respectfully requested to publish the proceedings of this convention. Said resolution was unanimously adopted and then on motion the convention adjourned.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. The Hobson Kisser Now in Demand.

Miss Emma Arnold, the St. Louis girl who kissed Lieut. Hobson, is reaping the benefits of fame.

The directors of the Wichita county, Kansas, fair have written the young woman asking her to assume charge of the women's department of the fair and name her price. They say a great many Kansas people are anxious to see the lips that kissed Hobson's and they know she would be a drawing card.

She has refused the offer, for her mother is very wealthy, and such inducements as offered by the directors of the Kansas county fair have no allurement for her.

Capt. Sweeney, of Company F has formally tendered his resignation to the War Department as Captain of Company F, Second Kentucky, and is now at home. The Captain looks well and hearty and appears much the better by his short war experiences.

Deputy Collector John A. Burton assisted by his brother Count and Joseph Jarboe made a raid on a moonshine distillery in the western end of the county, near Raywick, in the early part of this week. A fine still and a considerable quantity of beer and "singlings" were destroyed. No arrests were made, the operators being absent.

A bold attempt at jail delivery was made Tuesday evening. Paul Thomas and Fred Davis both colored, the former imprisoned for breaking into the post office at Dant, the latter for taking without malice a bicycle, were in the old part of the county jail. Jailer Clark passed through the jail to wait on a prisoner in one of the newly erected cells. While these "coons" burst in to the corridor and were on the eve of making an exit through the outer door, when Jailer Clark saw them, rushed to the door and shut it violently. Thomas was headed off, but Davis took a Maud S. gait down the narrow passage to liberty. A minute later and the wiry prisoners would have had Jailer Clark locked within.

Mr. W. T. Elder, a soldier who took part in the battle at Santiago, passed through Lebanon last Sunday on his way home in Taylor county. In this battle he was wounded in the shoulder from the effects of which he is still carrying his left arm in a sling. His account of the fight was very interesting. At the time the deadly ball struck him he was in a ditch and had risen to fire at the enemy, when he felt a sharp sting in his left shoulder The ball pierced his body through and through. When the battle began he had fifty cartridges in his belt. At the time he was wounded he had only two left.

Does Baby Thrive?

If your baby is delicate and sickly and its food does not nourish it, put fifteen or twenty drops of Scott's Emulsion in its bottle three or four times a day and you will see a marked change.

We have had abundant proof that they will thrive on this emulsion when other food fails to nourish them.

It is the same with larger children that are delicate. Scott's Emulsion seems to be the element lacking in their food. Do not fail to try it if your children do not thrive. It is as useful for them in summer as in winter.

Ask your doctor if this is good for your baby.

THE NEWS-LEADER

E. L. DAVISON, JR.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 1, 1898.

That Fair Affair.

The last issue of the Progress contained a labored effort from Robert Noe, who, besides being a great promoter of fairs, has developed into a card writer of large parts. We have never considered it good policy for a newspaper to air its business matters in its editorial columns, for the readers of a paper generally have troubles enough of their own, and, as a rule, they do not care to read the business controversies of anyone else. We must, therefore, apologize to our readers in the beginning for this reference to Mr. Noe and his card, and but for the fact that we feel called upon in justice to the NEWS-LEADER to correct some gross misrepresentations contained in the above-mentioned card, we would let the matter drop so far as our readers are concerned.

In the first place, we regret that we are unable to better enlighten the public as to the cause of all of this outburst of wrath which has been hurled against us. Two weeks ago the NEWS-LEADER contained an item of ten lines, in which something was said about Bob Noe's fair. There was no malice behind the item, and we had no desire to injure the prospects of the fair. The reference was a little rough on the fair, we admit, but we don't see why Bob should kick, but he does. He denies the parentage, but at the same time rushes into print in a fatherly way to defend the fair and its affairs. He attempts to show our grievance against the Fair Company without our having said that we had a grievance, and by his own statement shows the narrow policy pursued by the management more plainly than we could or would have done. He brings it out—a fact which we had not mentioned—that the directors solemnly agreed, in session assembled, and in response to our request for an advertisement that "the board, after discussing the matter, came to the conclusion that they would like to have the ad, but that Mr. Davison might insert the same in his paper without charge, inasmuch as all of the members of the board were patrons of his paper, and also in view of the fact that it was a public enterprise," etc.

We have had occasion several times during our ten years' experience as a newspaper publisher, to wish that our income was large enough to enable us to give away advertising space, and when we heard of the pitiful plea from that board of directors, we were moved with compassion almost to a point of yielding, but we didn't. A county fair is not a public enterprise altogether. It is run as a business and for profit. Money is spent in advertising it, and the people who attend pay for what they get.

Mr. Noe, among other things in his card that are irrevelent to the case, attempts to give a history of the printing of the fair catalogues, and in doing so makes a statement that is purposely misleading. He says that in 1896 and 1897 we received $75 and $65 for printing the catalogues, which cost the company this year only $35. The plain facts about this are: In the years mentioned, we undertook the publishing of the catalogues for 50 per cent. of the gross amount received from the advertisements We did all of the work of soliciting and arranging the advertising, and the catalogues were issued by us, and the Fair Company did nothing but receive 50 per cent. of the gross receipts from the advertisements. In other words, we paid the Fair Company $75 and $65, respectively the two years for the privilege of publishing its catalogues. This year the case was an entirely different one. The work was let to the lowest bidder, who agreed to do the printing only. The work of soliciting the advertisements was to be done by the Fair Company. This is the true statement of the case, as all of the directors know, and as the worthy Secretary knew when he made the misleading statement in his card in an effort to make a grand-stand play for the public and place us in a false light.

We wish to say in conclusion, and in response to the statement in that wonderful card to the effect that the NEWS-LEADER had been told that it had made a fool of itself in its disparaging remarks about the fair, that if Mr. Noe has found a man that told us we had made a fool of ourselves on that occasion, we would like to see the gentleman. If he is produced, we will call him a liar by the clock and will guarantee that he won't get insulted.

THE question as to which regiments shall be mustered out of service and which shall remain is being agitated and the men and the officers of the volunteer army are taking a hand in the discussion. As a rule we find that the officers who all draw fat salaries and have very little to do are in favor of remaining in the service for an indefinite period if possible although the war is over, but the poor private whose pay is meagre and who is compelled to put up with all the hardships and suffering from disease and other things, is more than willing to be sent to their several occupations. These men in the ranks show true patriotic spirit. A great many of them left comfortable homes and profitable occupations at their country's call and were ever ready and some of them did endure the danger of battle and the hardships of camp life without a murmur so long as there was a need of their services. But now that hostilities have ceased they are willing to go home. It is not so, however, with some of the commissioned officers, quite a number of whom are now enjoying a softer snap than they have ever encountered before in having an easy time in camp and drawing their salaries from Uncle Sam. The claims of the boys in the ranks should be listened to for they are the boys who were there to do the actual hard work and fighting anyway.

ACCOUNTS coming from the soldiers themselves and from visitors to the various points indicate a terrible suffering caused from incompetency and neglect at the military hospitals at Chickamauga and other places. These accounts have caused great public indignation to be expressed that the soldiers who had so valiantly volunteered in their country's service should be allowed to die like sheep for the want of proper food and attention. They have also caused to be set on foot official investigation by the department at Washington. Several official reports have been made so far they all being to the effect that the camps are in a good condition and there is no cause for complaints. The red tape officials may report to the contrary all they want to but the public has heard too many of distress come from the suffering soldiers not to believe that there is a screw loose somewhere and that there has been much unnecessary suffering among our soldier boys.

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jawbones and scrape it. Then a great while the Cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without relief, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (swift's Specific), and, with the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return. S. S. Mranock. 1298 Bodgrass St., Dallas, Texas.

Absolutely the only hope for Cancer is Swift's Specific.

as it is the only remedy which goes to the very bottom of the blood and forces out every trace of the disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

Books on Cancer will be mailed free to any address by the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Lung Irritation

is the forerunner to consumption. Dr. Bells Pine Tar Honey will cure it and give such strength to the lungs that a cough or a cold will not settle there. 25c. at all good druggists.

Booker T. Washington is about as shrewd a colored man as can be found. In speaking of his race, he said: "Our race is in too big a hurry. The preachers want the title of D. D. before they know divinity. Almost every graduate in the English course must be addressed as 'professor.' We want a biography before we have lived. Some want to take Latin and Greek who do not know the personal pronoun in English. Some want post offices who do not know how many stamped envelopes to give for 11 cents. Go to the farm, stick to the farm. We do not want to govern the country until we learn to govern the home."

The Successful Remedy for NASAL CATARRH

must be non-irritating, easy of application and one that will by its own action reach the inflamed and diseased surfaces.

ELY'S CREAM BALM combines the important requisites of quick action and specific curative powers with perfect safety to the patient. This agreeable remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. All druggists cheerfully acknowledge that in the acine of Pharmaceutical skill has been reached. The most distressing symptoms quickly yield to it. In acute cases the Balm imparts almost instant relief.

By Absorption.

Catarrhal sufferers should remember that Ely's Cream Balm is the only catarrh remedy which is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the diseased membrane. It does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a limpid and odorless condition, and finally to a natural and healthy character.

The Balm can be found at any drug store or by sending 50 cents to Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St. New York, it will be mailed.

Full directions with each package.

Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays inflammation, thereby stopping pain in the head, heals and protects the membrane and restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils

How To Win.

If you expect to conquer in the battle of today, you will have to blow your trumpet in a firm and steady way. If you took your little whistle and lay aside your horn, there's not a soul will ever know such a man was born. The man that owns the acres is the man who plows all day, and he that keeps a hammering is the man that's here to stay. But the man who advertises with a sort of sudden jerk, is the man who blames the printer because it doesn't work. The man gets the business, uses brainy printer's ink, not a clatter or a splutter, but an ad that makes you think; and he plants his well built stock and the future of his business is as solid as a rock.

A CRITICAL TIME.

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic efforts in Getting Amunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler of pack train No 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 25th, says "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with amunition and rations but thanks to Chamberlains Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we were able to keep at work and keep our health in fact I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was an indirect savior to our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine before we left Tampa and I know in my case it absolutely saved my life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines Ia. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

Regulars and Volunteers.

A tall regular with a bloody bandage around his head stopped to talk to us. He said he had been ordered back to the division hospital. Waxing enthusiastic, he exclaimed: "I tell yez boys, we're knocking the spots out of them. Over where I was I could see that big dynamite gun of the Rough Riders, and I tell yez it was a daady. Acrost from our trenches, up on the hill were them Spanish cannon a-blazing away, and every time one of their shells busted over our trench there was some dead soldiers in our ditch. It made us feel mighty uncomfortable and every time, till at last them Rough Riders pokned the long pipe of their aypamite gun out between the sad bags and off she went like a little popgun. It was just like as if an earthquake had struck that Spanish battery. Mud, blood and corruption went flying up in the air, and then the dynamite popped off again, and the next we knew them Spanish gunners quit shootung. But the Rough Riders went right on, and I tell yez they are all right. She're just as good as us."—Edwin Emerson, Jr. in Collier's Weekly.

Waters & Browne.

We have every reason to believe that ex-Governor John Young Brown will be a candidate for Governor, says the Elown News. He has not said positively that he will run, but he is in consultation with his friends in all parts of the state with the view of making the race. He is today as much of a candidate as a man can be not to be formally announced. At what he considers the proper time we believe he will announce himself. He is in fine physical condition to make the race and is very well satisfied in his own mind that he can win the nomination. If he enters the race he will certainly be a very strong candidate. With Brown, Hardin, Goebel and Stone in the race it will make politics in Kentucky next year very interesting. Brown's entry in the race will break up a great many calculations that have been made up.

RICE AND PEA COAL.

To Use the Material in Dirt Heaps of the Coal Regions.

Quite a large quantity of rice coal is now going to market. It costs at the mines 25 cents a ton. It is the cheapest fuel in the world of its kind, but the railroad company charges $1.30 a ton to haul it fifty or one hundred miles.

Rice coal is the product of the dirt banks. Mountains of coal dirt obstruct the anthracite regions near the collieries, and men have set up big washeries where the water supply is adequate, and wash out and screen out the fine particles of coal until the pure fuel, as small as rice, clean and burnished, comes to the surface on big platforms, and is dried for the market. The washers can produce this rice coal at about 15 cents a ton, and their profit is 10 cents a ton. The washers are satisfied with the profit, but they are hampered by high freight rates.

Rice coal is a modern size entirely. So is buckwheat, the next size to rice. These two sizes were not known in the commercial market until men began to wash out the mountains of coal dirt, supposed to be so much dead waste. Commercial sizes of coal are: Rice, buckwheat, pea, chestnut, stove, broken, steamboat and lump. The uses of lump and steamboat coal, large sizes for ships, are well understood. Stove and egg, or broken, are used for cellar heaters, and chestnut for kitchen ranges. Many people do not understand the uses of pea coal, and at this time when winter buying is thought of the study of pea coal is interesting. A few years ago very little pea was sold. People said it was dirt. Now they have small pea and large pea. Both sizes have sprung into a very large demand and the sales are increasing at the subject of interest. There are hundreds of families in this country who burn pea coal in their cellar heaters. Some who understand firing a heater use pea coal exclusively. Others mix pea and stove or egg together and use it in that way. Frequently pea coal is spread out on top of the large coal to keep the combustion well confined and to preserve the heat where it belongs—in the house. Very few families within a radius of thirty-five miles from the anthracite coal regions burn the old-time chestnut coal in their kitchen ranges. They save $2 a ton and buy pea coal, which goes further than chestnut, because pea packs more compactly, and does not burn away so fast. There are coal dealers who say this is not so, but successful and experienced housewives say it is a fact. Pea coal for keeping a fire all night in the kitchen is just the thing.

Anthracite coal is not used for domestic purposes generally, but the people are turning attention to it, right in the anthracite coal country here, because soft coal can be bought at $2 a ton, delivered, and there is more heat in a ton of soft coal than in two tons of buckwheat, or one and a half tons of good pea, which costs $3.50 a ton. Were it not for the smoke nuisance housekeepers would surely follow the manufacturers, stop using hard coal entirely and take up soft coal for the kitchen range and cellar heater. Those manufacturers who are using rice and buckwheat mix it with bituminous coal.

Electricity in the Philippines.

Mr. L. D. Hiles of Yokohama, while in New York, and in a conversation with a representative of the Electrical Review gave a number of interesting facts about the Philippines.

"Those islands should by all means remain in the possession of the United States," said Mr. Hiles. "Their commercial possibilities and native resources are almost unbounded. The sharpest competitors of the Americans and the Englishmen there are the Germans.

"Our firm has installed a central electric lighting station in Manila, which supplies current for 12,000 incandescent and 200 are lights. The machinery is of American manufacture. I am now making large purchases of American steam and electrical apparatus to be installed in the far East, a part of which goes to Manila.

"There are about 720 miles of telegraph in the islands and only seventy miles of steam railway. Manila has a telephone system equipped with English instruments. All electrical conductors are carried on overhead pole lines with porcelain insulators. There is also a horse railway in Manila which would have been changed over to a trolley road had not the war occurred. The concession for this road has already been acquired. There is a wonderful chance for Americans in many industrial undertakings in the Philippines, and I hope our government will hang on to them."

At the Wedding.

"She trembles like a fawn!" whispered the man in the second pew behind the white ribbon, as the bride swept down the aisle.

The woman who wept beside him laughed scornfully; at weddings women often laugh and cry at the same time.

"Go on!" she protested. "Nobody ever saw a fawn tremble like that! She acts as if she hadn't rehearsed one bit!"

And then, being invited to the breakfast after the ceremony she burst into more tears.

"Don't the old injury hurt you when you attempt to run?" asked the examining surgeon of a candidate for enlistment.

"Course it does. If yer lookin' for soldiers what's goin' to run jest count me out."

The Effect of Wide Tires.

The effect of wide tires on roads has been shown clearly on a street in Springfield, Mass., over which heavy quarry wagons are driven. The road was formerly badly cut up, but a number of years ago it was the understanding that wide tires should be put on the wagons carrying the quarry stone. This was done, the tires being four to five inches wide, and since that time the street has been in good condition, although little has been done to it.

The dispatch also says that two native Porto Ricans, while attempting to rescue the young man, were also drowned. Brooks is from this county, and had been here for the past five or six years. He worked as a farm hand in the Pleasant Grove neighborhood, and also near East Texas. He was known to a good many persons in the county.

This Will Do.

The following conversation was heard by a visitor to Springfield on the train between Louisville and here a few evenings ago, which shows everyone isn't enthusiastically patriotic. A woman, of mature age, addressed a younger one, with a rather good looking baby boy, in the seat just behind. "Pardon me, but your child looks so much like Dew-ee." The younger then replied that she didn't know it in a way that indicated she didn't know who "Dew-ee" was. The older then continued: "Yes, ever since we left Louisville, I could not help but notice the striking likeness; do let me have the dear little fellow for awhile; yes, so much like Dew-ee. You don't mean to tell me you don't keep up with the war? Why I read everything I get hold of about it, and I think Dew-ee such a perfectly grand man! You don't? Don't know who Dew-ee is? Why he is one of our engineer heroes of the navy." Then the engine whistled for Salt River.

ALL persons owing back taxes to me as ex deputy Sheriff must settle same by next County Court day or suffer their property to be advertised. H. B. POWELL.

WILLISBURG.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Elder J. A. Sims held services at Willisburg, Lords day morning and evening. Bro. Sims' rare ability as a preacher, and his success in turning sinners from the error of their way are surprising when we consider he was not educated for the ministry. Like Gen. Putnam he left the plow standing in the furrow to go where duty called. We truly appreciate such men for their work's sake. But we need some one to look after the youngsters who have a habit of shooting off pistols on their way to and from church. Our law is a good one and should be enforced.

Joe Keeling bought of Harvey Hardin 40 acres of land at $25 per acre.

Henry Thompson and Miss Ida Barr were married at the residence of Rev. Jesse Robinson, Sharpsville Sunday evening.

Mr. Frank Scruggs is very sick at this time.

Parker Ferrill of Garrard county is visiting his sister, Mrs. Stapp.

The kindness of Supt Bush in securing the free admission of the schools of this county to the Washington county Fair is much appreciated by parent, teacher and pupil.

Miss Nunan is visiting Miss Kate Arnold at Maud.

Threw Rocks in the Train.

Last Sunday evening as the colored excursion train passed through Bardstown on its way from Springfield to Louisville, a number of rocks were hurled through the windows of the coach occupied by white people, and it is said several persons narrowly escaped being struck and seriously injured by the missles. A large number of negroes from the town were congregated at the depot, and it was evident that some of them threw the rocks. Detective Williams, of the L. & N. was put on the case and by Friday he had obtained sufficient evidence to justify the arrest of Tom Irvine. Bill Collins, Frank Robinson and Wit Hamilton, all colored,

Tom Irvine and Bill Collins were tried before Judge Daugherty, yesterday, and were held over to await the action of Circuit Court. The trial of Wit Hamilton and Frank Robinson is in progress this morning. The case against the negroes is a pretty serious one, and it is likely they will spend a term in the service of the State.—Nelson Record.

White the New York grandees were cheering and feting the fleets of Sampson and Schley in New York harbor, Capt. Sigsbee, who was on the Maine, and who risked his life there, was in full view on his ship St. Paul, but was not noticed at all.

The St. Paul was the boat that first discovered the Spanish fleet in Santiago harbor, and enabled Schley to cable that he had them bottled up. Such is the irony of fate!

DAVE'S RESOLVE.

Sprawling down one hill and half-way up another was a little village; at the corner of its main street stood the White Lion Inn. The sun poured yellow light through the bar windows on to the sanded floor, and on the figures of two men who sat talking at a table.

"I tell you he's sweet on my cousin Phoebe, damn him!" exclaimed the younger man, bringing his fist down on the table.

"And what's that got to say to it?" replied the other, in a slow, heavy voice. "Josh Tuckett 'ull never see his darter o' his married to a drunkard."

"Dave ain't no drunkard; he takes his glass and goes out. Dang him, I wish he was!"

The elder man leaned forward and caught hold of the button of his companion's coat.

"Answer me this, Tummes Rod," he said, "didn't his father die o' drink?"

"Ay, sure."

"And his grandfather afore him?"

"Ay, certain."

"Bain't his three brothers lying in the churchyard at this very minet regular soaking the place wi' spirits; the grass never growed casual over their graves the same as it did over t'other folkes."

"What's that got to do wi' Dave?"

"Why, begore, he'll come to the like sooner or later. Mark my words if he don't. He's a drunkard now—at heart. Scores o' times I've reckoned to hear his throat split and crack when the fish dinner drove at it."

A heavy flush rose to Rod's face. "And may it; the sooner the better," he said.

"You and he wor thick anuff as boys," replied the old man, rising, and regarding him curiously.

Rod turned away and went back to the bar. "Didn't I tell 'ee that he be sweet on my cousin and her on him," he answered, in a sullen voice.

There was a sound of footsteps, and Dave entered, the old man taking his departure at the same time. Rod glanced with quick scrutiny at the newcomer's gaunt but boyish face, as, dropping his bag of tools, he flung himself on the counter.

"A half-and-half, Tom," he said. "My throat is regular dring'd (squeezed up) with thirst."

The flush on Rod's face receded, leaving it ashen gray. He filled a small glass to the brim with spirits and pushed it across the bar. Dave swallowed the contents at a gulp, and stood, fingering the glass nervously.

"Take another sip," said Rod.

"Naw, wen ba anuff, thank 'ee."

"Come, I'll stand yer."

Dave's thin white face reddened. "I dursn't," he said, turning away and picking up his bag of tools.

The landlord burst into a rough laugh. "You puts me in mind of a maid before her first kiss, terrible afraid, but wonderful willing," he replied. "Come," he urged, unsteadily, "drink me success to something I've set my mind on."

There was silence a moment.

"Bis it summat pertikler speshil?" Dave asked, at length.

"I told 'ee I'd set my mind on it."

"Drink be kindling temptsome," Dave muttered, half to himself, as he watched Rod fill two glasses with spirits. "Will," he added, gulping down the spirits with feverish impatience, "may 'ee git what 'ee want and more."

Rod looked at him a moment, his lips twitching: "To the damnation of Dave Vlint, body and soul!" he exclaimed, and drained the glass, flung it across the bar at the wall opposite. For a moment the two men regarded each other in silence, then Dave turned on his heel, halted a moment at the door, and glanced back. "I'd 'ee mean

Free Medical Advice

You need a doctor many times when you don't call one. You suffer pain in fifty forms and yet won't call the doctor, because you think that the pain "will go away after a while." And, too, you know by experience, that that first visit of the doctor is generally followed by many others, with the inevitable consequence of a big bill "for professional services." You don't know what to do for yourself or what to take.

But suppose that you could get free, absolutely free, the advice of one of the most in the United States? You can. The physician is right here. He has an office in the building, he has a staff of correspondents to assist him, and anyone and everyone who needs medical advice is invited to write to him. If your baby's health or mother's or the health of any member of the family you may write about it, sure of a careful reading of your letter, sure of a conscientious diagnosis of your case.

Sure of a Cure

If cure is possible. Every letter will be held as a strictly confidential communication. Remember these facts.

We offer you medical advice from one of the most eminent practitioners in the United States, whether our medicines suit your particular case or not. We offer you this advice at the cost of the two cent stamp which it will take to bring your letter to our office. Address the Medical Department, Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Baby's Coming

means pain, danger and possible death for some wives. For others it means practically no discomfort at all. There is no reason why childbirth should be a period of pain and dread. Several months before a woman becomes a mother she should prepare herself for the critical ordeal. There is a preparation made which is intended for this purpose alone.

The name of this wonderful preparation is Mother's Friend.

It is a liniment to be applied externally. It relaxes the muscles and relieves the distension, gives elasticity to every organ concerned in childbirth, and takes away all danger and nearly all suffering. Best results follow if the remedy is used during the whole period of pregnancy. It is the only remedy of the kind in the world that is endorsed by physicians.

MRS. PLACE'S CASE.

Will She Be Executed in New York State's Electric Chair?

The sentence in New York of Mrs. Martha Place to be electrocuted for strangling her stepdaughter, Ida Place, is exciting a growing interest. Will she be executed at the time named by Judge Hurd? If the sentence is carried out she will be the first woman to sit in the dreadful electric chair.

If her sentence is carried out, Mrs. Place will be the sixth woman who has been executed in New York.

The first victim of the law was Mrs. Margaret Houghtaling, alias "Tyger" Dinsmore." Her death was most unfortunate for all concerned. It was afterward proved beyond doubt that she was innocent of the crime charged against her. Despite her dying protests, despite the unwearied exertions by friends and counsel to get her reprieved, she was hanged in Hudson, N. Y., on October 17, 1817, for the murder of her child, only six weeks after her indictment for the crime.

Great and profound was the sensation, when, a few years after the execution of the young mother, another woman, on her death bed, confessed that she alone had committed the murder. In her last words she most solemnly declared that Mrs. Houghtaling had known absolutely nothing of the crime.

The second woman executed was Mrs. Elizabeth Van Valkenburg, hanged in Johnstown on January 24, 1846, for poisoning her husband. Notwithstanding the horrible nature of the crime and the most extraordinary circumstances surrounding the case, the daily papers gave only a five line report of the execution. It was one of the most sensational events of the decade except the Mexican war, and was the talk of the state for many years.

The next execution of a woman was that of Mrs. Runkle, of Utica. She, too, was charged with poisoning her husband, and was hanged at Whitesboro, in 1749.

Citizens of the state had a rest from these shocking exhibitions until July 29, 1852, when Ann Hoag, still another poisoner, was hanged in Poughkeepsie for murdering her husband on May 7, 1852. A delegation went to Albany to place new evidence before the Governor, but he was absent in Canada, and nothing could be done in behalf of the accused woman.

The last woman executed in New York was Mrs. Roxalana Druse, who was hanged in Herkimer, on February 27, 1857, according to the evidence, she with her daughter Mary and an eighteen-year old youth named Charles Gates, killed her husband by shooting him.

Before the case came to trial Gates turned state's evidence. Mrs. Druse received a death sentence, while her daughter was condemned to imprisonment for life. It was a terrible sequel to the crime.

The famous Marie Barberi was convicted and sentenced in 1895 for killing her Italian common law husband, D. Catalio, who refused to marry her. She was granted a new trial by the Court of Appeals, and acquitted in the following year. It was one of the most interesting and bitterly contested murder cases on record in the state.

South Dakota Wheat Crop.

The farmers of South Dakota, encouraged by the advanced price of wheat and the excellent yield in most portions of the state last year, largely increased their acreage this season. This increase is estimated at about 15 per cent., or practically 5,000,000 acres over last year. This places the acreage in wheat for this year at about 30,000,000. Estimates made at the present time put the total wheat yield of the state this year at practically 40,000,000 bushels. Last year it was only 21,000,000, although the estimate about the same time before held over as the present placed it at 30,000,000 bushels. The estimate of 40,000,000 bushels is based upon results without severe climatic conditions to damage the grain, and in case such conditions do not occur within the next three weeks, that estimate is called conservative. This would give an average yield over the state of thirteen bushels per acre. Some sections will not show such a yield, while others will be above it and the average kept up. The southern and eastern counties of the state are in the best shape, and will show an average above thirteen bushels, while the northern and western counties will run below this average.

Apple and Peach Crops Poor.

"If all the reports from the fruit-growing sections are to be believed, the apple crop will not cut much of a figure this year," said a well known fruit dealer. "Both New York and Michigan, which usually take the lead in apples, report only an ordinary yield and the maturing apples in other sections are claimed to be somewhat of a failure.

"Georgia and Carolina peaches and watermelons," said the same authority, "have been unusually plentiful this season, well-conditioned, and low in price, but when we come to Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey, it is said the heavy late frosts of Springtime played sad havoc with the fruit blossoms throughout the peach orchards."

Wifey—Do you think there is a man that could conscientiously say to his wife, "You are the only woman I ever loved?"

Hubby—Only one that I can think of.

Wifey—Who? You, dearest?

Hubby—Oh, no. Adam.

"Blind Tom" As He Is Today.

"The name Thomas Wiggins means nothing to the majority of readers," writes John J. a' Becket in the September Ladies' Home Journal. "But Thomas Wiggins is 'Blind Tom,' a name familiar to hundreds of thousands in this country and abroad, who have heard the piano played by this wonderful negro. The impression that he is dead is a general one. As a matter of fact, Blind Tom has never been ill a day in his life. On the banks of the Shrewsbury River, in a domain of over two hundred acres of woodland, stands a picturesque two-and a-half-story wooden house with a broad veranda. Here Blind Tom is at home.

"His hands are not at all 'piano hands.' In place of the slender, long fingered hands which is so often seen in great pianists, Tom's hands are small and plump, with the thumbs and and tapering fingers quite short.

"The strongest impression I bore away was that of the sweet contented life the poor, blind negro is leading. There was pathos in it. I had expected to find a wonder at the piano, and I did, for his untaught mastery of the instrument is marvelous. From the time when the Bethune family left the dinner-table to see who could be playing on the piano, and discovered the sightless pickaninny of four years perched on the stool, his little hands plucking uncanny melody from the keyboard—from that time until now he has had an unwavering devotion to the instrument whose music is his life

BEST SARSAPARILLA.

"Best" is an easy boast. But there's no best without a test. You expect something extra of best; something extra in bread from best flour; something extra in wear from best cloth; something extra in cures from best medicines. It's that something extra in Ayer's Sarsaparilla that makes Ayer's the best. That something extra is quality. Remember it's quality that cures, not quantity. Geo. Smith of the People's Drug Store, Seymour, Conn., says: "I have sold your goods for twenty-five years and when a customer asks me for

The Best Preparation for the Blood

I say: 'If you will take my opinion, use Ayer's Sarsaparilla; I will guarantee that you will receive more benefit by using one or two bottles of Ayer's than you would by using half a dozen bottles of some other kind.' When they take it, I never hear any complaint."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures all diseases that have their origin in impure blood: sores, ulcers, boils, eruptions, pimples, eczema; tetter, scrofula, etc. It cures cheaply, it cures quickly, and it cures to stay. That's why it's best.

"After twenty years' experience as a druggist, I consider Ayer's Sarsaparilla superior to any similar preparation on the market, and I give it the preference over all others."
A. C. WOODWARD, Worcester, Mass.

"In our estimation, as regards Sarsaparilla, Ayer's is the standard. We have never heard it spoken of in other than the very highest terms."
W. E. TERRILL & CO., Pharmacists, 9 State Street, Montpelier, Vt.

"I consider Ayer's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier on the market."
Dr. GRISE & CO., West Gardner, Mass.

"During fifteen years of experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I have yet to learn of a single case wherein it failed to cure if used according to directions."
F. O. COLLINS, Druggist, Paris, Mo.

"I believe Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains more medicinal value than any other similar compound."
JAMES DOANE, Dispensing Chemist, Kingsville, Ont.
